My name is CORA M. COTTEN and I live here in Fairhope, Baldwin County, Alabama. I have known Phennie Campbell for the last twelve years and knew her when she and her husband were living down in Barnwell, Baldwin County, Alabama and I know that her husband, Hamp Campbell, used to beat her and that she and he separated in July, 1950 and since that time they have been living separate and apart. Her husband is still living down in Barnwell and she is living here in Fairhope, Alabama.

I know that she has been living in Fairhope, Alabama for the last three years and I know that she was a good wife to Hamp and that she gave him no cause to treat her like he did.

COUNTY OF BALDWIN;

My name is PHENNIE CAMPBELL and I live in Fairhope, Baldwin County, Alabama, and have been living here in Fairhope since July, 1950. Before that time I lived in Barnwell, Alabama for twelve or thirteen years, but for the last three years and up to today, I have been living in Baldwin County, Alabama.

HAMP CAMPBELL and I were married in September, 1924 and lived together as husband and wife up in Dallas County, Alabama up until 1940 when we came down here to Baldwin County. While we were living together we did not get along well and he would beat me. I had to leave him in July, 1950 because he beat me. Since July 1950 we have lived separate and apart and he has done nothing toward supporting me.

During our married life while we were living together he beat me severely and when he beat me it was dangerous to my life and health. While we were married we had two children, both sons, but both of them are over the age of twenty-one years now and are grown and able to look after themselves.
