TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Re: Mr. Denver Hatley

This is to certify that I have known Mr. Denver Hatley for some nine years and have been acquainted with his illness.

In 1952 Mr. Hatley was having very severe seizures of the psychomotor variety during which he would actually become combative and attack anyone in his immediate environment. These such seizures would alternate with grand mal convulsions and actually surgery was done on Mr. Hatley because his seizures were becoming more severe and more of a problem for him.

In 1952 I performed a right temporal lobectomy on Mr. Hatley hoping to decrease the severity of his seizures and perhaps eliminate them altogether. At this operation the anterior third of his temporal lobe of his brain on the right side was removed. Unfortunately after the operation a wound infection necessitated removing the bone flap and leaving it out. Fortunately after the operation was done Mr. Hatley's seizures were much less severe but nevertheless he continued to have them at intervals. Also I might add that two attempts were made by other people to replace the defect in the skull with an artificial device and on both occasions the artificial device had to be removed because of wound infection. As a result Mr. Hatley has a very disfiguring sunken-in place on the right side of his head which is very disfiguring.

This man's epileptic attacks and the fact that he has this skull defect makes it very difficult for him to maintain himself and family because his seizures have made it impossible for him to hold a job.

I would therefore certainly appreciate any leniency which could be shown Mr. Hatley and I certainly

Re: Mr. Denver L. Hatley

Dear Mr. Thompson:

In reply to your July 30th letter regarding Mr. Hatley, please be advised that his diagnosis is, psychomotor epilepsy (temporal lobe epilepsy). His seizures have been much lessened by a temporal lobe resection carried out by Dr. Patton in about 1951 or 1952.

Mr. Hatley's present medication consist of Pheno-barbital which seems to alleviate most of his seizures and which drug he will have to continue taking the rest of his life.

Trusting the above information will suffice.

Sincerely

H. S. Cowley, M. D.
