Re: No. 1154
Fidelity & Deposit
Vs: W. F. Hawie

Dear Mrs. Duck:

In this matter I got a judgment back on February 22, 1952. It was an appeal from the J.P. Court and the Defendant made bond.

Shouldn't that judgment run against the sureties on Defendant's bond? I just thought about that today when you sent me a bill for costs in this matter. I think Hawie is generally able to get some good sureties on his bond and if we can levy on them, we can get our money.

Please look up and see who his sureties are and advise me what steps I should take to get my judgment against the bondsmen.

Yours very truly,

E. G. Rickarby, Jr.
