Acceptance by the Mortgagee of any installment or payment after default shall not be deemed a waiver of such default nor shall the acceptance of such payment by the Mortgagee constitute a waiver of any subsequent default or of the Mortgagee's rights hereunder. It is further agreed that this instrument contains the entire agreement between the parties hereto.

Upon condition, however, that if the Mortgagors pay said indebtedness and shall do and perform all of the acts herein agreed to be done, this conveyance shall be void; otherwise to remain in force and effect, but if the Mortgagors shall fail to pay said indebtedness or any installment thereof, (time being of the essence), or in the event the Mortgagors shall fail or refuse to exhibit said property at any reasonable time upon request of the Mortgagee, or should the Mortgagors violate or fail to comply with any provision herein contained, or should the Mortgagors be adjudicated a bankrupt or file a debtor's petition under the Bankruptcy Act or should any circumstances arise by reason of which the Mortgagee shall deem itself insecure; then, in any one of said events, the Mortgagee may, at its election, and without notice to the Mortgagors, declare the entire indebtedness hereby secured due and payable; and the Mortgagee shall have the right, without notice to or demand upon the Mortgagors, to take possession of said property, and to this end the Mortgagors agree that the Mortgagee, its agents or assigns, may enter the premises of the Mortgagors or any premises over which they have control, with or without process of law; and the Mortgagors do hereby exonerate the Mortgagee and agree to hold it harmless for all damages in connection therewith; and the Mortgagee shall have the right to sell said property at public or private sale, as it sees fit, with or without having said property at the place of said sale, and, if sold at private sale the Mortgagee need not give any notice of said sale, but, if sold at public sale, the Mortgagee shall give at least ten days notice of the time, place and terms of said sale by publishing one time in some newspaper published in said County and State; the Mortgagors further agree that said sale, whether public or private, may be held at such place as Mortgagee sees fit to hold same and that the Mortgagee may become the purchaser of said property; and the Mortgagors further agree that the proceeds of said sale shall be applied first to the payment of the expense of such sale, including the expense in the taking possession of said property, court costs, bond premiums, attorney's fees, storage and warehouse charges; second, to the payment of the balance due on the indebtedness hereby secured; third, the balance, if any, shall be paid to the Mortgagors; and if the proceeds should not be sufficient to pay in full the balance due on said indebtedness, when applied as aforesaid, then, in that event, the Mortgagors promise to pay in full to the Mortgagee the amount of such deficiency upon demand by the Mortgagee.

That the Mortgagors covenant to keep the property herein described in first class condition at all times at the expense of the Mortgagors and not to part with the possession of the property or remove it from the County aforesaid, nor to sublet the property, nor allow it to be used as a rental property; that the Mortgagors shall exhibit said property to the Mortgagee on demand, and will not use or permit the same to be used for or in connection with the storage, transportation, sale, barter, or gift of intoxicating liquor or other substance in violation of any law, state, federal or municipal.

In regards to our telephone conversation of today, I have advised my client of the fact that Jeanette Lassiter is not employed at Standard Furniture Company, but that James Lassiter is presently working there. However, they have requested me to hold up taking further action against Mr. Lassiter as he has made arrangements for payment on this account. Due to this fact, it will not be necessary for you to hold this garnishment for me. If the debtor should default in his agreement on this account, I will then request a garnishment to be issued against you.
