ANSWER

I.

The defendant, for answer to the complaint, saith that the note, upon which the action was founded, was not executed by him, or by any one authorized to bind him in the premises; and he makes oath that this plea is true.

II.

The defendant, for answer to the complaint, saith that the note, which is the basis of the suit, was executed and delivered to the Plaintiff as security for the premium upon a policy of life insurance, and that said policy of life insurance was not applied for by the defendant, nor was it accepted by him, nor did he consider himself insured by said policy; that there was and has been no consideration for the execution of the said note.

III.

The defendant, for further answer to the complaint, saith that the note, which is the basis of the suit, was executed and delivered to the plaintiff as security for the premium upon a policy of life insurance; that said policy of life insurance is of the type policy which divides policyholders ~~is~~ into classes, paying benefits to the member of said class whose policy has been in force the longest period of time; that said policy is known as, has all the characteristics of, and is a tontine policy, and as such is prohibited by the general laws of the State of Alabama; that there was and has been no consideration for the execution of said note.
