The Plaintiff claims of the Defendant the sum of TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS ($10,000.00), as damages for that heretofore on, to-wit: December 27, 1961, the Defendant was engaged in the business of conducting a hospital for the treatment of patients requiring medical care, and for a reasonable compensation the Defendant undertook, promised and agreed to nurse and care for the Plaintiff as a patient who was there for observation for undetermined ailments.

The Plaintiff further avers that on, to-wit: December 29, 1961, while still a patient in the Defendants hospital and under their care, the Defendant acting by and through its agent, servant or employee negligently left the Plaintiff unattended with a bed rail down. As a direct, proximate consequence and result of said negligence, the Plaintiff fell or rolled from her bed and suffered the following injuries: Her right thigh bone was broken, she received such a shock that her mind has become unbalanced and dearranged. She has suffered much mental and physical anguish and pain and caused to spend much money for treatment of her injuries all to the loss of the Plaintiff in the aforesaid amount. The Plaintiff further avers that on the date of the alleged injury, that she was 90 years of age, was unable to control her legs and ankles and was and had been bed-ridden for sometime all of which was known to the Defendant and because of this the Defendant was duly bound to exercise a greater degree of diligence in the care of the Plaintiff than is required for the average patient treated in the Defendant's hospital.
